Proposed Agenda for an Examiner Interview
for Above-Identified Patent Application

- Discuss present invention
- Discuss June 20, 2002 Office Action and August 15, 2002 Advisory Action
- Discuss U.S. Pat. No. 5,159,592 (Perkins) and U.S. Pat. No. 5,953,350 (Higgins)
- Discuss differences between present invention and the combination of Perkins and Higgins, including but not limited to:
 - the lack of disclosure in Perkins of a central server that receives network protocol addresses from client processes, and receives queries of the stored network protocol addresses from client processes;
 - the lack of disclosure in Perkins of the establishment of point-to-point communication between client processes;
 - the lack of disclosure in Higgins of the establishment of point-to-point communication between client processes based on addresses stored in a central server.
- Discuss the lack of motivation to combine Perkins and Higgins
